Both the Danville Advocate and the Danville Messenger come out strong for Gov. Beckham for the democratic nomination for U. S. Senator in the state wide primary next August. This is peculiarly appropriate and well thought. The Advocate which made the first declaration for Beckham on Monday said:

"Boyle county gave Gov. J. C. W. Beckham a knock-out blow when he was the nominee for United States Senator. Boyle county was chagrined at that time and has been anxious to do reparation. The democrats of this county should come out to a man for the former Governor. The Advocate is anxious to be the first to propose the proposition for the unanimous support of the Nelson county leader. Gov. Beckham's stand at Baltimore along with Senator James has made him a force in the State that stamps him as a winner."

The Richmond papers are very sore at the democrats of Madison for turning down Judge Sullivan in his home county, and they have a right to be. We personally know that Congressman Helm would have liked to see Judge Sullivan carry Madison, and that he made no fight there, of course, however, being in no position to attempt to check the work of his Madison county friends, for him. Judge Sullivan deserved an endorsement by his home people, any they will yet regret that they did not loyally support him.

The selection of J. N. Camden, of Versailles, as campaign chairman of the democratic party in Kentucky this fall could hardly have been improved upon. Mr. Camden is clean, capable, and is one of the men who are doing things to keep Kentucky in the forward rank of states. Strength to his arm in the fight to make the majority 100,000 in November.

The fight as to who will poll the biggest vote in Lincoln, Roosevelt or Taft has already started. Chairman Davison of the Taft forces has issued a call for a big rally at the colored Odd Fellows hall next Monday night. Now what will the Bull Mooses do? We'll take a ticket on "Davy" every time.

The Board of Prison Commissioners this week appointed John Chilton, of Hopkinsville, warden of the Eddyville penitentiary, a splendid selection. Now if they will retain Warden Ed Mudd, at Frankfort, who has made a splendid official, and appoint Bob Coffey a deputy warden, everyone in this section, will be well pleased, we are sure.

The citizen who does not read the speech of Woodrow Wilson accepting the democratic nomination for the presidency, misses a gem indeed. What a great and wonderful man he is becomes more apparent every day.

Editor Jesse M. Alverson, of the Anderson News, comes out strong for Helm for Congress, and declares that the "hatchet is buried" between them.

Editorial Snapshots.

Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch: The Bull Mooses will be scarce when they read the platform the colonel is fixing up for them.

Bristol Herald-Courier: They won't even let Thaw out of the asylum long enough to show whether he would kill Evelyn Nesbit or not.

New York World: What matters a record wheat crop for Kansas if it must fight until November over whether the credit belongs to Taft or Roosevelt?

Washington Star: Boston is an altitudinous example of sagacious and indefatigable superiority in baseball as well as a top-notch in literature.

Undeserved But Appreciated

(Danville Advocate.)

The Advocate stands ready to take off its hat to Editor Shelton Sautley, of the Stanford Interior Journal. To him more than to any other man in the Eighth Congressional District Congressman Harvey Helm owes his remarkable victory in the primary last Saturday. He acted as press agent for the "Tall Sycamore," and while we thought we were delivering some "hot shots" in favor of our man, Sautley, some how or other, managed to cover us with still hotter shots in the numerous Helm papers of the district. Sautley's many friends all over the district are declaring that Congressman Helm should reward him with the best slice of pie in his gift when Governor Wilson is made president of the nation. Many of Congressman Helm's warmest friends say that he should back Editor Sautley for the Collectorship and in the event that the Stanford editor cares for the job, he will doubtless land if Congressman Helm's backing will do it.

A Beautiful Decline.

(Saturday Evening Post.)

Ollie James, Congressman and Senator-elect from Kentucky, was in conversation the other day with a Washingtonian, when the latter made certain inquiries with reference to a mutual friend whom he had not seen for a number of years.

"And how does Col. Prescott spend his declining years?" he asked.

"Beautifully, sir; beautifully!" answered James. "He has a fine farm sir. And a string of trotters, sir, and a barrel of whiskey sixteen years old—and a wife of the same age, sir!"
